

But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. -

Ready or Not, Here I Come!

Elkanah was in here a few minutes ago and he spent some time playing the piano. He played a song that I didn't know but it reminded me of a song that was done by The Heralds (I think). I only know a few of the words to that particular song but let me share what I do know:

The Lord is coming, are you ready?
The Lord is coming, are you ready?
Would your heart be right,
If He came tonight?
The Lord is coming, are you ready?

Those words stuck in my head and I decided to tell you how I would answer that question if someone were to ask me. My answer would simply be that getting ready for the Lord to come isn't my business. It isn't my job. Getting ready for Jesus to return to get me is something that I cannot do. It's an impossibility.

So what are we supposed to do? Don't stress over it! It isn't our job and Jesus doesn't expect us to do the job of getting ourselves ready. He sent the Holy Spirit to work within us and it is His responsibility to get us ready. All we have to do is let him. Trust in God to do what He has promised to do. But when you decide to let Him heal you, make sure that it's the Holy Spirit that you are following and not the impostor.

What a wonderful Savior we have. He came and gave his life for us so that we might live.

Happy Sabbath and much love to all of you,

Hannah
